

CTPAT Statement of Support

As a proud member of the U.S. Customs and Border Protection (CBP) CTPAT program since February 28, 2003 supply chain security continues to be an integral part of the company's culture and business processes.

From inception in 2001, CTPAT remains a voluntary public-private sector partnership where members work with CBP to strengthen their international supply chains and ultimately improve border security, protecting the supply chain from criminal activities such as drug trafficking, terrorism, human smuggling, and illegal contraband.

As an active CTPAT member, A.N. Deringer, Inc., has developed, and maintains, a multi-layered security program that is consistent with the CTPAT minimum-security criteria (MSC), and remains committed to protecting our organization and supply chain from any illegal or illicit activities.

We understand that our company is only one of many who are included in our supply chain, and feel that security is everyone's responsibility. As such, all employees and business partners, including contractors, service providers, and visitors are educated and must comply with the company's CTPAT policies and procedures that are in place at each facility
