

Essential Oils Exemption Declaration

Complete this form if you have products flagged as essential oils for religious purposes per Presidential Proclamation establishing Section 122 tariffs. If you need more space, please attach a list of goods to this form and indicate a product number, description of goods, HTSUS number, and an end use. If you ship some goods that qualify for this exemption and some that don't, speak to your Deringer contact about supplying documentation other than this form. Failure to pay duties on subject goods can result in adverse action from CBP. By signing this form, you acknowledge that you have read the entire form and understand your responsibilities as the importer of record.

Further Guidance

Under the Presidential Proclamation "Imposing a Temporary Import Surcharge to Address Fundamental International Payments Problems" and further clarified by CSMS# 67844987, the United States will apply only the most-favored nation (MFN) tariff to certain essential oils imported for religious purposes. The list of tariff numbers provided for in the Proclamation's Annex II indicate that subheadings marked with "Ex" impose a scope limitation on eligible articles that is defined and limited by the product description. 3301.29.51 is marked as such indicating that only those oils imported for religious purposes under this classification are exempt from the Section 122 tariffs. CBP has stated that filers should ensure that all supporting documentation that substantiate proof of the product's intended use for religious purposes be kept on file for recordkeeping purposes.
